DETAILED ACTION

1. Applicant's Amendment filed on July 22, 2005 in response to Examiner's Office Action has been reviewed. Claims 21 and 22 have been added.
2. Claims 1-22 are presented for examination.
3. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code § 103 not included in this action can be found in a prior Office Action.
4. Claims 1-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 103(a) as being unpatentable over Holenstein et al. (Hereinafter "Holenstein") US Patent Publication No. 2002/0133507 in view of Robsman US Patent No. 6,477,561.
5. Holenstein and Robsman were cited as prior art in the last office action. The rejections are respectfully maintained and incorporated by reference as set forth in the last action.
6. Claims 21 and 22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 103(a) as being unpatentable over Holenstein et al. (Hereinafter "Holenstein") US Patent Publication No. 2002/0133507 in view of Robsman US Patent No. 6,477,561.

Art Unit: 2165

As to claim 21, Holenstein and Robsman teach the invention substantially as claimed. Robsman further teaches changing a waiting transaction thread to a non-active state conditioned upon whether there are not less than the predetermined maximum number of transactions service threads present [126 of fig. 3; delays its calling thread, col. 2, lines 2-6].

As to claim 22, it is a corresponding apparatus of claim 21; therefore, it is rejected under the same rationale.

Response to Arguments

7. Applicant argues that Robsman does not teach the feature of starting a non-active service thread conditioned upon less than a predetermined maximum number of transaction service threads being present.

As to this point, Examiner respectfully disagrees. Robsman teaches that the thread is allowed to continue only after the number of active threads has dropped below the thread limit [see col. 2, lines 6-8; 124 of fig. 3]. It can be understood that whenever the number of threads is less than the predetermined thread limit, start changing a non-active thread conditioned of attempting to service the queue of changes to service a request.

8. Applicant's arguments filed on July 22, 2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.
